

Mixed Emotions

Love is a bright but breakable person.

She tends to only wear one theme of clothing, it varies on her mood.

But she's usually a pink

Not a subtle pink, but a bright one.

It's her happy colour.

Though sometimes she can be a bit melancholic.

Or even a bit cathartic,

She breaks but she builds herself back up.

Her best friend is anger.

Anger is a destructive but understandable person.

He tends to only wear one colour too, it varies on his mood.

But he's usually a red

Not a subtle red, but a bloodshot one.

It's his comfort colour.

Though sometimes he can be a bit ruinous

Or even a bit disastrous,

He collapses but builds himself back up.

Love and anger are not alike

They are both individual but accept each other
